Col. Strode

It is announced that Col. Aubrey E. Strode, of Amherst, is considering whether he will stand for the office of Attorney-General or not. Col. Strode would make a formidable candidate and if he comes out he will not be disappointed in the vote of Appomattox and Buckingham counties.

We are just spiling for a chance to vote against the whole State Board of Education—Governor, Attorney-General and State Superintendent.

If the chance ever comes the Democrats of these strong holds of the organization will be able to show that the Senator and Delegate do not constitute the whole show.

Aside from these considerations Col. Strode is equipped in every way for the duties of this high office, and we would especially like to see him on the Board, which has the appointment of Division Superintendents for all Virginia.

Good Impressions

Mr. A. H. Clement,
Editor Times-Virginian.

My dear Sir:

Having spent the last fifteen years of my life in New York and New Jersey and the last seven years in a progressive community of eight or ten million people and now having returned to my native state and to Appomattox, one of the most historic spots in Virginia, will you permit me as a new comer to tell the people through your valuable paper something about my first impressions and growing convictions?

Having arrived here in the dead of winter when all nature was bare, the first thing that caught my eye was the color of soil; the next was the beautiful landscapes and imposing homes, the next was the lovely churches and the rather exceptional and imposing school building. I need not tell you that the impressions have all been favorable with the exception of the soil and the condition of the streets and roads. With the color of the soil I have no quarrel for God made it red and I suppose that He had a good reason for so doing. Furthermore, I find that there is something very pleasing about the color of the soil as time goes on.

I have been here now for six weeks and I have been impressed with the hospitality and cordiality, intelligence, sobriety, and thriftiness of the people. No where in all the world can more obliging merchants, bankers and neighbors be found. I know of no community so small where one can come so nearly getting everything he needs for his physical, mental and moral welfare. Better water I have never seen; there seems to be an abundance of electric power for our immediate needs and the possibility of great expansion as the demands increase. The Rail Road facilities are by no means bad; we will soon have a great highway connecting us with the great outside world and we can boast of an ice plant that excells many of those in our great cities. Our's is the County Seat of one of the great counties of Virginia. The altitude and the climate are most pleasing and conducive to good health.

Now in view of all these things and considering the fact that the trend of the population is toward the cities and towns it seems to me that there are untold possibilities here for expansion and developement. We have the wealth and all natural resources except water power, we have the capacity, the intelligence and it seems to me that all we need to make the town grow is the vision of greater things the will to realize them and last but not least co-operation to that end.

It seems to me that the first thing to do is to incorporate, for experience proves that when any considerable number of people come together to live in any given community they have to have laws for their mutual peace, protection, health and prosperity. Experience also proves that there must be some kind of machinery for enforcement of these laws. The time will surely come when, unless there is some kind of an agreement among the people of this community regarding what is legitimate and not legitimate that there will be all sorts of embarrassments and complications. It is our duty as good citizens to anticipate these in advance and forestall them by intelligent co-operation. We owe it to ourselves and our children.

Experience also proves that the kind of organization and co-operation made possible by the proposed incorporation will advance not only the interests of the town but of the individual citizen. There will be a small tax, of course, but then the property values will be enhanced, the comforts increased, and living made worth while. This applies not only to the property before which immediate improvements will be made, but before the property in the remotest corner of the corporation limits. The health of the people can be and must be safeguarded; the streets may be improved and extended; the town can be and ought to be well lighted, the morals and the bodies of the people can be better protected. A subway for school children and other pedestrians ought to be placed under the railway at the principal crossing; post cards showing the main public and private buildings, the historic surrender grounds and other points of interest can be and ought to be made, and sent everywhere over the earth, thus advertising our town and community and bringing tourists. A new spirit with the slogan, "Boost Appomattox, Trade at Home" can be engendered, new industries may be induced to come by making some concessions and offering some inducements and all of these things can be done without over taxing anyone.

Let us incorporate,

X.

Dead

M. C. JONES

M. C. Jones died Saturday night at the Virginia Baptist hospital after long illness. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Annie Breazeal Jones, and by three brothers and three sisters: T. M. Jones of Cayner's Springs, S. D. and Bolling Jones of Atlanta, Ga. Miss Ella Virginia Jones of Binghampton, N. Y., Mrs. Howlett Hunter of Gladys, and Mrs. Oscar Hunter of Lynchburg.

Mike Jones was well-known in this county, where he was highly esteemed. He was a prominent farmer of Campbell, where his genial disposition had endeared him to a wide circle of friends. His funeral was largely attended among the mourners were his old colored friends and employees.

ANDREW P. WHITE

After an illness of long duration, the last month of which was characterized by intense and unremitting pain, but borne with great Christian fortitude and patience, Andrew P. White, a highly respected citizen of this town quietly passed away at his home on Church St., Tuesday March 17th, at 7 a. m., in the 64th year of his age.

Mr. White was of Scotch decent and was born in Putmon county, W. Va., in February 1861. Early in life he moved to this county and spent most of his life in Bent Creek neighborhood. When he was about thirty years of age he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church. Later however, he joined the Maple Grove Baptist church which he served in the capacity of a Deacon, Treasurer and Superintendent of the Sunday School until his removal to Appomattox in the late summer of 1924, when he became a member of Liberty Baptist church. From the time of his conversion Mr. White was a most earnest, active and devoted Christian, much of his time and thought being devoted to his church and denomination. He was a man of strong faith to the very last and that faith proved a great asset and comfort in his last trying illness.

In 1879 he was married to Miss Elizabeth Abbitt, by whom he is survived. He also leaves two sisters and one cousin: Mesdames. John W. Dillard, J. Govern Camm, and Pleasant Preston, of Lynchburg.

Funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. M. Thompson from his late home yesterday and interment made in the family burying ground at Tower Hill.

MRS. GEORGE WARNER

Mrs. Nannie Scottie Warner, aged 75 years, a native of Appomattox county died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hattie E. Myers in Lynchburg. Deceased had lived most of her life in this county where she has relatives and friends.

Permanent roads are a good investment —not an expense

An Extra Gasoline Tax of from 6 to 20 Cents Per Gallon

Your gasoline bills run into real money.

But have you ever stopped to figure how much of this is in the form of an incredibly high gasoline tax?

Let's see what happens when you leave the Concrete Highway and take to a gravel or a dirt road.

Conclusive tests have proved that a gallon of gasoline will carry you only two thirds as far on a gravel road as on a Concrete Road. On a dirt road a gallon of gasoline will carry you only half as far as on Concrete.

With gasoline at twenty cents a gallon, you would thus pay a gasoline tax of more than 6 cents per gallon on the gravel road and 20 cents a gallon on the dirt road.

These are figures you can't get away from. You can prove them yourself.

And remember that every time you travel on either a dirt or a gravel road you also increase wear and tear on tires and run up your general repair bills.

Why continue to pay these high taxes and get nothing in return but the discomfort and inconvenience of unpaved roads and streets?

Let your local officials know you want an adequate system of Concrete Roads and Streets. They are just as willing to build them as you are anxious to get them.

But they must have your support.

Berkeley Garrett son of Norman Garrett underwent operation at Lynchburg hospital yesterday for appendicitis. He is getting along nicely.

As a result of an appeal made by the Salvation Army at the churches here Sunday much waste material is being gathered for the organization. Anyone having old papers, books, magazines and old clothes of any kind who will give same to this worthy cause is invited to deliver same on Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. Arthur Irby adjoining the Methodist church here.

Lytan Harvey exhibited a curasity here this week in eggs—two complete hardshell eggs in one. The outer shell measured 9x8 inches and the inner egg was the usual size hen egg. Do you know that Appomattox probably ships more eggs than any town in the State.

Little Marion Elaine Giles celebrated her 9th birthday last Thursday, the 12th. Quite a number of school friends were invited and they had a delightful time. After playing games for sometime they were invited into the dining room, where refreshments were served.

At a mass meeting Monday night of the citizens of this town the meeting again endorsed the proposition to incorporate, but before applying for charter a committee was appointed to take the sentiment of the qualified voters of the proposed zone, so every voter will have the chance to vote for or against incorporation. The committee is to report to a meeting to be held at the auditorium on the evening of the 30th instant.

It is a pleasure to announce to music lovers of this vicinity that final arrangements have been made for the appearance of Signor Colafemina, the noted Italian tenor, who will present a concert at the School auditorium on Friday evening, March 27th. The local chapter of the U. D. C. is sponsor for the musical.

J. M. Bucknam filed his voluntary petition in bankruptcy this week. He listed 21 creditors as follows: State and county taxes $35, Lynchburg Implement Co. $150, Lynchburg Seed Co. $75, C. T. Evans Evergreen, $60. E. L. Harvey & Bro. Evergreen, $17, Evergreen Cooperative Exchange $50, R. D. Baldwin Pamplin $15, Dr. McCall Pamplin $5, J. R. Moose Pamplin $30, H. T. Terry Pamplin $55, Franklin Bros. Pamplin $175, Franklin Paint Co. Cleveland Ohio, $7, W. F. Garrison Bridgeton N. J., $145, Dr. A. Cornwell Bridgeton N. J., $80, First Nat. Bank Lynchburg $100, Bank of Appomattox $70, State Bank of Pamplin three items $355, Harvey Hdw. Co. Pamplin $175, A.H. Clement Appomattox $3000. Assets of $890 of which $100 is claimed exempt are listed.

The Parent-Teacher Association are fortunate in securing Mrs. Harry Semones, of Roanoke, President of the State Association, to make an address here at the High School Auditorium March 25th at 3 p m. She is a charming and instructive speaker and we hope to have a large crowd of interested patrons present.

For Rent—Some dwellings in and around the village of Appomattox, and some farms near Appomattox and elsewhere in the county.

That Desire You Have for a Beautiful, Livable Home

Let us show you the many things you can have built in your home without extra cost

HERE is a Curtis stairway rich with the romance of early Colonial days. Beautiful Mr. Vernon, where George Washington enjoyed the quiet hours of happy family life, stands today as a tribute to the architecture of these times. Curtis has retained all the dignity and simplicity of the Mt. Vernon stairway design.

This Colonial stairway is just one of the many designs of Curtis stairways from which you may make your selection.

Curtis Woodwork includes such items as doors, windows, moldings as well as entrances, stairs and built-in features, all designed and fashioned with care and skillful craftsmanship.

CURTIS
See that the woodwork you buy bears the trademark —the Curtis guarantee of quality

Let us show you how Curtis Woodwork will add to the beauty and comfort of your home, whether you plan to build or remodel, at a final cost no greater than that of ordinary "millwork."
